ISSUE

The Manager, Alcohol and Tobacco Program, Health Promotion Northern Sydney Local Health District will present to the Committee on current evidence, issues and action relating to e-cigarettes in the Northern Sydney area.

BACKGROUND

E-cigarettes are battery-operated devices that may look like regular cigarettes, cigars, or pipes. Some look like USB flash drives, pens, and other everyday items.

E-cigarettes heat liquids to produce an aerosol that looks like smoke. The aerosol is commonly referred to as 'vapour' and may contain nicotine. Users inhale the vapour, commonly known as 'vaping'.

E-cigarettes are designed to be used in a way that replicates, or produces an experience similar to, the inhalation of smoke from an ignited tobacco product or non-tobacco smoking product.

In NSW, adults can legally buy and use e-cigarettes that do not contain nicotine. NSW Health: e-cigarettes

A prescription is required for e-cigarettes and e-liquids containing nicotine. Both personal importation and domestic purchases require a prescription. All nicotine vaping products are regulated under the Therapeutic Goods Act 1989 as Schedule 4 (prescription only) medicines in the Poisons Standard.

The Public Health \(Tobacco\) Act 2008 outlines restrictions around the sale, supply, display and advertising of e-cigarettes and provides protections for people under the age of 18. Restrictions under this Act include, including:

- It is illegal to sell e-cigarettes, e-cigarette accessories, and tobacco products to anyone under 18 years old.
- It is illegal for retailers (other than pharmacies) to sell e-cigarettes or e-liquids that contain nicotine, including online sales.
- it is illegal to display, advertise or promote e-cigarettes either inside store or in public.
- It is illegal to purchase e-cigarettes on behalf of minors.
- It is illegal to sell e-cigarettes that make a health claim, such as 'this product helps smokers to quit.'

NSW Health inspectors visit tobacco and other retailers to check if products containing nicotine are illegally being sold.

Vaping products are often associated with flavours, imagery and colourful packaging that are appealing to young people.

The liquids used in e-cigarettes may contain a range of toxic chemicals including those that add flavour. Sometimes e-cigarettes contain nicotine even when labelled 'nicotine free'.

According to the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare, e-cigarette use by Australians aged 14 or older more than doubled from 2016 to 2019 and is most common among smokers aged 18–24 at 18.7% (an increase from 6.8% in 2016).

The use of e-cigarettes has a range of impacts on the community including:

Health: E-liquids can contain many harmful chemicals. Many e-cigarettes contain nicotine making them addictive. NSW Health: The facts about vaping

Many people, including young people, perceive e-cigarettes to be a safe alternative to smoking cigarettes.

Several key Australian health organisations, such as the Australian Medical Association (AMA), Cancer Council Australia and the Australian Council on Smoking and Health (ACOSH) have published positions on e-cigarettes, sharing the following messages:

- There is insufficient evidence to promote the use of e-cigarettes for smoking cessation.
- There is increasing evidence of health harms. Vaping has been linked to serious lung disease.
- E-cigarettes may normalise the act of smoking and attract young people.

Schools: Schools across the Northern Beaches are experiencing significant issues with young people vaping on site. In response to health and wellbeing concerns a range of strategies are being implemented including restricting access to toilet facilities, education around vaping, and a formal disciplinary response aligned with that for other drug and alcohol use in schools. Media report: Vaping – the scourge of our schools, Media Report: Schools lock toilets, NSW Education: Drugs in Schools Policy

There are anecdotal reports of health and hygiene implications for all students.

Access: E-cigarettes are accessible to young people in our community and online. Under the counter sales, promoted by word of mouth, occur in our community. Social media is also used as an avenue to facilitate sales. Media report: Illegal sales of disposable vapes

Most young people report their last e-cigarette was supplied by a friend.

ISSUE

Youth Voice – Shaping the Beaches’ Future

BACKGROUND

Northern Beaches Council’s Better Together Social Sustainability Strategy 2040 was adopted in August 2021 and made a commitment to develop a youth discussion paper. This project is also reflected in the Community Safety Plan through the inclusion of an action to:

Develop a Youth Discussion Paper to identify youth specific needs and challenges and to inform the delivery of youth programs.

The draft Youth Voice – Shaping the Beaches’ Future Action Plan (the Plan) delivers this commitment by capturing the views and voice of young people to better understand their unique and diverse experiences of growing up on the Northern Beaches.

Over a period of six months an extensive consultation process has been undertaken, engaging over 1,000 young people to understand what matters to young people and how we can make sure that they remain a critical part of community life. The Plan provides tangible actions for achieving social sustainability outcomes for young people, focusing actions on how we can ensure young people are safe, included and connected to community life.

The purpose of this presentation is to provide an overview of the Plan and to encourage the Community Safety Committee to provide feedback when the Plan goes on Public Exhibition.

DISCUSSION

There will be opportunity for discussion following the presentation.

RECOMMENDATION

That the Committee receive and note the information provided in the presentation.

Seniors Sector representative

Other stakeholders may be invited to attend as required for discussion regarding particular agenda items.

At the June 2022 Community Safety Advisory Committee meeting, the Committee discussed inclusion of a seniors sector representative as a member of the Committee, in light of seniors being a key priority group under the Community Safety Plan. On 27 September 2022 Council endorsed revised Committee Terms of Reference to reflect this recommendation.

Discussion at the Council meeting requested further consideration be given to an appropriate seniors sector representative. An update will be provided detailing the seniors sector representatives to be considered.
