These are located in the family history research area of the library on level 2. Search the library online catalogue to get exact locations.

The various indexes held in this collection will refer you on to further documentation on CD ROM or microfiche or reels. Some of these are held at Dee Why Library, but the majority are held by State Records NSW at their Kingswood office.

PLEASE NOTE:

Books in this list are reference books. They are held in the Family History Reference collection at Dee Why Library. Books available for loan are not included.

Magazines can be borrowed

GETTING STARTED

Computers

Dee Why Library has two dedicated Family History computers. These can be booked for a period of 2 hours to conduct your research. Please make a booking for these computers by calling ahead or speaking to our library staff at the library's front counter.

Microfiche Readers

We currently have two microfiche readers.

The microfiche reader on the right (the larger of the two) has the ability to scan items to the computer next to it. These images can then be sent to the printer. Or it can be used to view material without the computer.

The older microfiche reader on the left (the smaller of the two) is not connected to a computer. It is used for viewing only.

Remember to always place the film underneath the glass plate when loading material onto the reader.

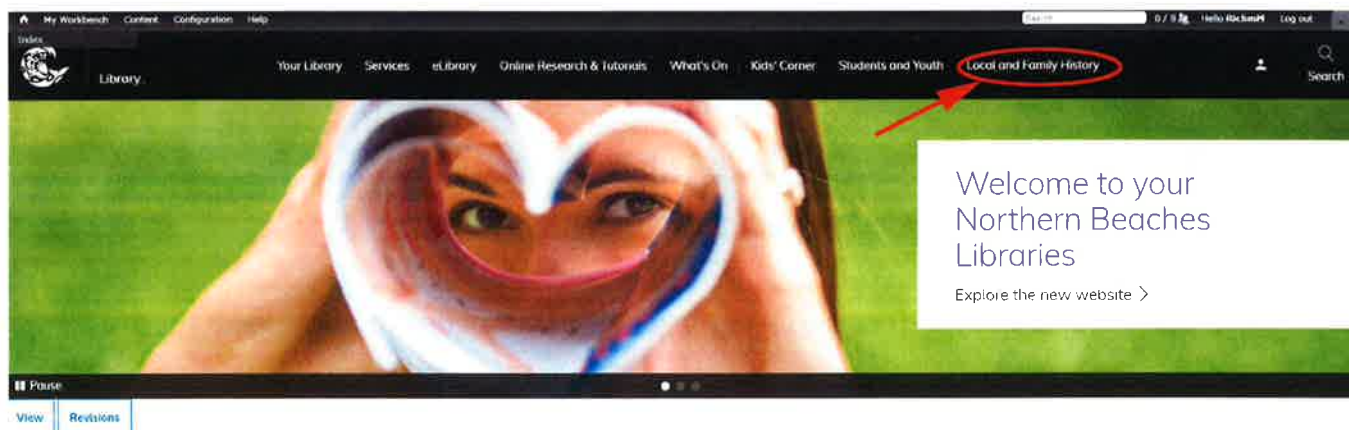

Access to Ancestry and Find My Past

Access to Ancestry and Find my Past is FREE when using any of the library computers in any branches.

These websites allow you to search billions of records including births, deaths, marriages, military records, census records, immigration records and more to search for your family connections.

Information you find can be saved to a USB, printed to library printers or sent home via email, dropbox etc.

To access these sites start at the library website homepage, click on the Local and Family History Tab.

Then click on Family History. This will open up direct links to freely access both Ancestry and Find My Past
