A Message from the Mayor

Today is the International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women and I am privileged to have attended a number of events this week where women have shared their stories and men have taken a stand to help prevent violence.

One in three women experience violence by someone known to them and one in five women experience harassment at work. It will take a total community response to turn these terrible statistics around.

As local government we can play our part and I am thrilled that Northern Beaches Council is supporting the growing world-wide campaign to prevent violence against women. Council will seek accreditation as a White Ribbon Workplace and commit to creating a strong culture of respect and a zero tolerance for violence of any kind.

Also this week Council extended the deadline for applications for the 2018 Australia Day Awards. I know we have so many deserving volunteers on the Northern Beaches who contribute to our community and this is a great opportunity to make sure they are acknowledged.

There are six categories to choose from, celebrating the outstanding contributions of our most remarkable citizens. Nominations now close on Monday, 4 December; check out Council's website for details and make sure to get your nominations in.

Finally, a reminder that the new B-Line bus begins services next week. There are many route changes and new timetables in place so be sure to check Transport NSW's online tools to plan your trip.

Have a great weekend.
