

A message from the Mayor

It's not often I get an excuse as good as Local Government Week to boast about all the incredible things your local council does in our community every day.

While once we may have been known for roads, rates and rubbish, the modern council is so much more.

Yes, we pick up household rubbish and manage over 850km of local roads, but many people are surprised when I tell them that it's Council who runs the Manly Art Gallery and Museum, our two aquatic centres and even Glen Street Theatre.

We manage over 120 sportsfields, 220 playgrounds and a growing number of skate parks, and we are developing more to support the Northern Beaches' active lifestyle.

Our six libraries and community libraries attract over a million visits a year and are now operating a seamless, one-catalogue system with almost 180,000 members.

We provide childcare for over 4,000 kids and operate 41 community centres which host everything from cooking classes for seniors to life drawing and playgroups for children with disability.

We have a great team who look after our unique bushland and waterways, including environmental scientists, bushcare specialists, and engineers who manage floods and stormwater, and we patrol and clean our 21 beaches and 15 ocean rockpools.

Our incredible events attract people from all over the world to enjoy the best places, music, food and entertainment while supporting our local businesses.

Our education teams have a reach far and wide - just today they have joined forces with grass roots community groups for a Mega Beach Clean at Avalon.

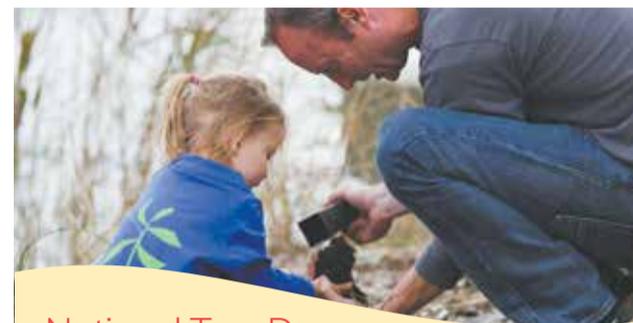

And of course, our new size and capacity means we are able to influence decisions made by state and federal governments that impact on our community - such as planning laws and transport.

This year's theme for Local Government Week is 'the power of community', and this is really where local government comes into its own. It's our community who drives everything we do, every decision we make, and what makes local government so worthwhile to be a part of.

Have a good weekend.
